Annexation program will seek to extend city's boundaries

GRANITE CITY — An annexation program has been formed to expand Granite City's area by approximately 5,000 acres, it was announced Tuesday by Mayor Von Dee Cruse.

The plan would extend the city limits to the Chain of Rocks Canal on the west, Interstate 270 on the north and Pontoon Beach on the east, Cruse said.

A committee to enact the expansion program has also been formed. It will be chaired by Director of Economic Development Alan Ortals.

THE ESTIMATED completion of the expansion program is November, Cruse said.

He added the Metro-East area has long been hampered by governmental fragmentation.

"It's time we took a professional, organized approach to local development," Cruse said.

"This is why I appointed a director of economic development, pushed for a director of public works and invited officials of Pontoon Beach and Nameoki Township to take part in a consolidation study," he said.

"I'M CONVINCED that development is headed our way," Cruse added, "but unless we prepare for it, it will bypass us for the outer ring of the Metro-East," such as Edwardsville, Collinsville, Fairview Heights and Belleville, he said.

In order to achieve its goals, Cruse said the annexation committee will seek to bring in both GRANITE CITY — Chairmen for the City Council's standing committees for fiscal 1987 were approved Tuesday night.

Every alderman, except 6th Ward Alderwoman Judy Whitaker, was appointed to at least one committee chairmanship by Mayor Von Dee Cruse.

"It's wrong," said 7th Ward Alderman Mike Modrusic. "Every alderman has a chairmanship except Whitaker."

CRUSE HAD APPOINTED Modrusic as chairman of the lights committee. But Modrusic said he would refuse to serve since the mayor had not appointed Whitaker to any chairmanships. "I felt the chairmen I picked were the best for the committees," Cruse told the aldermen.

"It was unfair," Whitaker said following the meeting. "I'm a good, hard-working honest person and I vote the best way for the 6th Ward."

The committee chairmanships which were approved are:

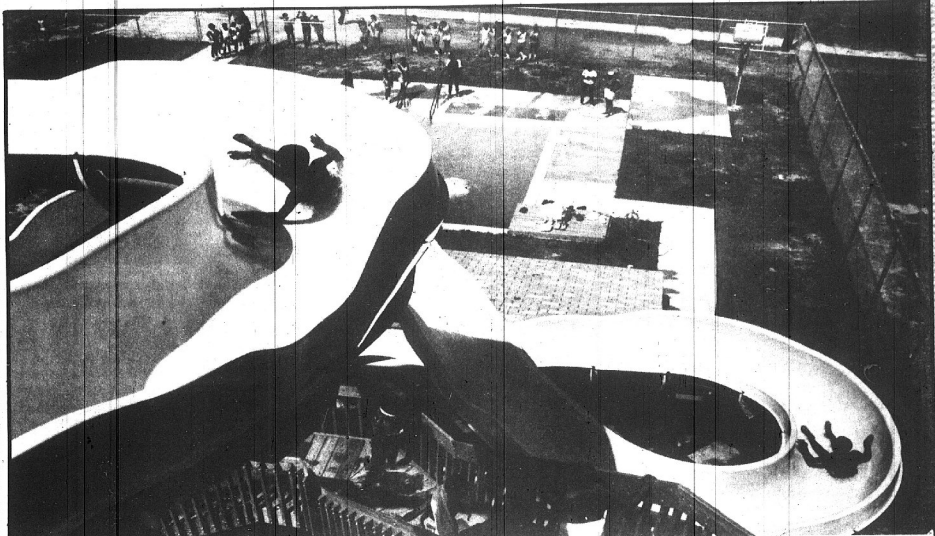

FINANCE — 5th Ward Alderman Jake Varadian.

ORDINANCE — 2nd Ward Alderman Sam Whitmer.

STREET AND ALLEY — 3rd Ward Alderman Brett Hanke.

FIRE AND WATER — 7th Ward Alderman Jeff Worthen.

No decision on Redmond reached by School Board

By Jack C. Ventimiglia

Executive editor

GRANITE CITY — The public again waits to learn the fate of District 9 Superintendent Sam Redmond.

While more than two dozen persons stood outside of the closed session Tuesday, the board heard opinions from four business leaders concerned about district controversy. The board decided to review the four recommendations.

A special meeting to discuss Redmond, the third in recent weeks, will be held at the board of ice at 6:30 p.m. Monday, June 23. The delay will give the board time to review the recommendations.

"I think we're going to see some good headway," School Board member David Partney said Tuesday evening. He declined to say more.

Meeting with the board in closed session were Mel Wilmshier, chairman, First Granite City National Bank; Carl Mathias, assistant vice president, Illinois Power Co.; Bob Lombardi, Lombardi Interiors; and Drew Karandjoff, president, Central Banc System. During open session, Philip Garrett, a representative of the Illinois State Board of Education, said he was told not to attend closed sessions when certain non-board members would be present. Following that announcement, the press was barred permanently from closed session and was not present during the panel's discussion.

When the panel entered the closed session, Garrett walked out. He said he was directed not to be present in meetings with the press, or panel, because the ISBE thought the presence of either was "awkward." The board continued to meet with the panel.

Letter backs board in meeting dispute

GRANITE CITY — A letter supports action taken by the School Board during the June 3 closed session.

On Tuesday, a letter evaluating the board's performance during the June 3 executive session was read by Board President Dewey Mellon in response to board member David Partney's comments following that meeting. Partney had threatened to amend his legal complaint, based on the June 3 meeting, against the board's closed discussions.

The letter was from Philip Garrett, a school evaluation specialist representing the Illinois State Board of Education. In the letter, Garrett stated he was not an attorney, but observed nothing wrong with the June 3 closed meeting.

Leo E. Hennessy, ISBE assistant superintendent, Springfield, said Wednesday that Garrett was meant to be an observer. The ISBE, he said, did not agree with giving the board the letter.

"We would have preferred he'd not done it," Hennessy said. The letter means only that Garrett believes there was no wrong action at the June 3 meeting, nothing more or less, Hennessy said.

Garrett is in Granite City at the ISBE's direction following a complaint by Partney about the board's conduct in executive session.

New police chief named in Madison

MADISON — Assistant Police Chief Charles Bridick, a 12-year veteran of the police department, was appointed chief of police by Mayor John Belkoff at Tuesday night's City Council meeting.

He replaces William Papa, who is on an administrative leave of absence. Papa will return to the department as a lieutenant.

BRIDICK HAS SERVED on the Madison police force since Jan. 10, 1969, and has received many letters of commendation from other police departments for his performance of duties.

He is a member of the Madison County Police Association, Illinois Police Association, Madison Police Unit 110 and the St. Louis Area Major Case Squad.

A lifelong resident of Madison, he is a member of St. Mary's Catholic Church and is second vice president of the Granite City Rascals Boys Football Club.

HE HAS BEEN ACTIVE in various scouting groups since his youth. He was one of the first Boy Scouts to attend Camp Sunnen in 1953 when he was a member of the St. Mary's Boy Scout troop.

Bridick is a Brotherhood member of the Cahokia Lodge, Order of the Arrow, a scout camping organization.

He and his wife, Karen, have five children, Lisa, Jeffery, Steven, Christine and Patricia.

THE NEW CHIEF said he definitely wants to work closely with the aldermen to bring the staff to 11 men, a total the department formerly had on duty. Adding two officers "would eliminate overtime for the men now working," Bridick said, "and would maintain the increased efficiency that we have, now and for the future."

"There will be no immediate changes in the system that was set up by former Chief William Papa and myself. No drastic changes are planned for the department. It will stay the same, with more men in a supervisory role on the streets," Bridick said.

"The plan set up is working efficiently and (efficiency) is at an all-time high. That can be told by the arrests made and money (from fines) coming back to the city."

"IF YOU DON'T HAVE a working relationship between the chief, command officers, line officers and the public, the structure starts

Woman gets probation for poisoning

GRANITE CITY — A Granite City woman who was indicted last year for putting arsenic-laden rat poison in her husband's drinks was sentenced Monday to two years probation.

Joyce R. Bauer, 48, pleaded guilty to aggravated battery before Madison County Circuit Judge Charles Chapman.

A CHARGE of attempted murder was dismissed under a plea agreement reached between her attorney, John Madden of Gillespie, and Assistant State's Attorney Robert Trone.

Mrs. Bauer was arrested Oct. 16, 1985, following a two-month investigation.

Participating in the investigation were Granite City police, the Madison County state's attorney's staff and the Illinois Division of Criminal Investigation.

SHE WAS ARRESTED at St. Elizabeth Medical Center where she was employed as a housekeeping staff member for 8½ years.

A Madison County grand jury had issued an indictment Oct. 9 against her for allegedly trying to kill her husband, Thomas Bauer, 52, of 2625 Lincoln Ave., during a 29-month period from March 1983 to August 1985.

He said he had retired from Granite City Steel in June 1984 due to the effects of the poisoning.

However, Joyce Bauer contended he retired due to a fall at work and was on a disability pension.

"I DON'T WANT anybody to think I crippled this man," she said Wednesday.

She said her husband lives in the home that belonged to her before they were married in 1982. She Bloodhounds, imported from Russia, successfully trailed copper wire thieves who Thursday night cut more than 1,000 feet from the Terre Haute long distance line. The wire was found in an East St. Louis junk yard just 12 hours after the wire was cut. Authorities believe a wire theft ring has operated in the Granite City area for three months.

Development bill shelved

A bill to create a Southwestern Illinois Development Authority to spur economic development in Madison and St. Clair counties has been temporarily shelved by Rep. Jim McPike, D-Alton, because of disagreements among East St. Louis area officials.

McPike said he did not call the bill in committee before a June 13 deadline because "local officials from the East St. Louis area are still not satisfied with the bill."

He said he also held up the bill because he earlier thought Republican leader Lee Daniels, R-Elmhurst, would offer an amendment to permit other counties in the state to create similar authorities.

However, McPike said, Daniels was asked by Gov. James Thompson not to pursue that amendment and Daniels apparently agreed.

"I've never made any pretense this is a matter of life and death for the Alton-Wood River area. This is intended primarily to help the East St. Louis and Centreville area and to develop their riverfront. If the officials there aren't in agreement on this, we won't move ahead with it," he said.

McPike and Gov. Thompson's office had earlier this spring agreed to a compromise bill to create the new authority covering Madison and St. Clair Counties. McPike did not call a House-originated bill last month, however, and instead took over House sponsorship of an identical bill that had already passed the Senate under the sponsorship of Sen. Frank Watson, R-Greenville.

Kirk Dillard, the governor's director of legislative affairs, said Friday, "We are still hopeful of resurrecting and passing a Southwestern Illinois Development Authority bill before the end of the session."

He said the governor's staff would work with the local officials, legislators and McPike to try to resolve any problems.

The legislation provides for an 11-member board composed of the directors of three state agencies (appointed by the governor), four public members appointed by the governor and four public members appointed jointly by the Madison and St. Clair county board chairmen.

It provides state backing of the bonds issued by the authority for industrial, commercial and recreational projects.

The legislation does not give any taxing powers to the proposed new agency but local governments within the two-county area would be authorized to levy property taxes to support authority projects if they wished to do so.

Local governments would have 45 days to disapprove any project proposed in their jurisdiction by the authority.

The original impetus for the authority came from proposals to build a new domed stadium in Illinois for the St. Louis football Cardinals, and to build a major international auto raceway in St. Clair county.

The emphasis later shifted to using it as a means of raising financing for East St. Louis riverfront development.

NOTICE OF INTENTION TO ADOPT A TAX LEVY IN AN AMOUNT WHICH IS MORE THAN 105.1% OF THE EXTENSION EXCLUSIVE OF ELECTION COSTS, FOR THE PRECEDING YEAR

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that it is the intention of the Metro East Sanitary District, St. Clair and Madison Counties, State of Illinois to adopt a tax levy for the year 1986 which is more than 105.1% of the taxes extended, exclusive of election costs, for the year 1985.

1. The aggregate amount of property taxes extended by said district for 1985 is $1,458,960.
2. The aggregate amount of the proposed tax levy for 1986, exclusive of election costs, is $1,682,500.
3. The percentage increase is 15.32%.
4. Public hearing of the proposed budget and proposed tax levy increase of said district shall be held on June 24, 1986, at 9:00 a.m. at the District Office located at 1801 Madison Avenue, Granite City, Illinois.

Three facilities in Chicago and two in Springfield will be open from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. June 20. Edgar said, "to accommodate those who are renewing their registrations at the end of the month. The June 30 deadline will not be extended."

Deage tax and farm plates may be purchased in the Centennial Building only.

One passenger car stickers and "B" truck and "TA" trailer stickers are also available at many banks.

All second division vehicles licensed on a fiscal year basis, including trucks, trailers, tractors, semi-trailers and farm trucks and trailers, are required to purchase new plates and/or stickers.

Anyone driving a vehicle with expired plates or sticker will be subject to a fine for improper registration, Edgar said.

Much work being done to resolve insurance crisis

By State Rep. Sam Wolf
Activity in the General Assembly is running high as legislators prepare for the upcoming deadline and the June 30 adjournment date.

As I predicted earlier, a great deal of our time this session has been spent attempting to work out a solution to the insurance crisis.

In recent weeks, some confusion has arisen on the process being used to reach agreement. I would like to clear up some of this confusion.

The insurance crisis is a complex issue. At this point, no one fully understands all the factors contributing to the rise in premiums and lack of availability of liability insurance, nor does anyone fully understand the effect legislative changes could have on the state and national economy or the consumer.

Even with my past experience in the insurance industry, I don't pretend to understand all the factors involved in this issue.

We decided early on that, before a solution to this problem could be worked out, we would need to carefully consider all aspects.

Legislative leaders appointed an insurance task force that met over the winter and early spring. Through these statewide meetings, the insurance task force collected a wealth of information.

I have personally examined much of this information and am able to say confidently this information has been and will continue to be invaluable during the rest of the decision-making process.

After the spring session got into full swing, the insurance issue was treated similarly to other crucial issues that have come before the General Assembly.

On issues like medical malpractice, just last year legislative leaders, along with representatives of business, insurance and consumer groups, met to work out an agreement to this problem.

There is one big difference between this issue and previous major issues. To handle the complexities of the insurance crisis, House Speaker Michael J. Madigan appointed a series of advisory committees to continue studying and working toward a solution.

These committees, made up of the representatives of interested groups, each considered specific elements to the problem and areas of disagreement, as to a solution.

I was a member of two of these advisory committees. During these meetings, as well as during the leadership meetings that followed, progress was made, and is still being made toward reaching an agreement.

In anticipation that a solution will be reached, we introduced earlier in the session House Bills 3263, 3264 and 3265 that are to be amended. Each of these bills deals with an area of state statute that may need to be changed.

For example, 3263 amends the insurance code. Bill 3264 amends the state and local government tort liability code, and 3265 amends the civil tort system.

Through this method of deliberation, we will reach a solution to a problem that plagues businesses and consumers alike.

Two honored for leadership

Distinguished service awards went to Robert A. Weis, Granite City, president of Bricklayers District Council No. 2 of Southwest Illinois, and Byron F. Farrell, Wood River, president of Helmkamp Construction Co.

Both men were honored because of their leadership in establishing cooperative labor-management relations in the region.

I'M CRACKING DOWN ON WHITE HOUSE LEAKS.

LEAK THAT TO THE NETWORKS...

Four vote to exclude the media

Permanent exclusion from District 9's closed meetings is the punishment the press must bear for its coverage of board issues.

Alan Crider, Harry McKechnan and Monroe Worthen, led by Kelly Hogan, voted to ensure no outsiders view what occurs inside the board's numerous, lengthy closed-door sessions.

Granite City was unique in its relationship between the board and its newspaper. In exchange for the newspaper's assurance that it would keep quiet, the board allowed the newspaper the privilege of attending such sessions to learn the reasoning behind board decisions.

An additional purpose was served. The public knew its "watchdog," the press, was in the closed meetings to serve as a silent representative of the public's interest.

Hogan, Crider, McKechnan, Worthen... These four board members seized the excuse provided by the State Board of Education to bar the press.

The state, not knowing this newspaper has been allowed in executive sessions here for more than 10 years, thought it could cause a problem if the press observed such meetings. They suggested we be barred. Now that it's been done, they maintain it was the right thing to do.

At the same time, however, they acknowledged individual boards can determine "how open or closed their meetings will be."

The District 9 board members who voted to exclude the press knew they didn't have to do so. They voted against us. They voted against you.

Hogan, Crider, McKechnan, Worthen... Their votes deprived the public of the unique, open way in which executive sessions are conducted in Granite City.

Their vote stifles the press, but will not deter us from our public duties. So long as there is reason, we will continue to say those things some board members want kept out of the newspaper.

We shall not cease from saying politics should not be played with district jobs, Mr. Worthen.

We shall not cease from safeguarding the Illinois Open Meetings Act, Mr. McKechnan. We shall not cease from saying the superintendent should recommend those he believes are most qualified for district jobs, Mr. Hogan.

We shall not cease from saying it is wrong for a School Board member to seek to be a district principal, Mr. Crider.

Hogan, Crider, McKechnan, Worthen... We shall not cease from seeking the truth, or printing it.

A place should have been found for Whitaker, too.

It seems too much, sometimes, to expect civic leaders to be greater than the situations in which they find themselves. To put aside personal feelings when they've been attacked, and to somehow do the right thing while gritting their teeth in anger.

But doing so is one of the tough challenges in political life—a challenge we advocate all public officials meet in each case. Not giving Whitaker a chairmanship is no crushing blow in that she still has a place on city committees. The mayor hasn't won a major battle, just a skirmish. To us, the affair is just an example of two politicians at odds.

We've seen extreme examples of where this can lead.

We support a truce.

We have no crystal ball to see the future, but we are hopeful Konzen's presence will provide the glue to bind the board together in commendable common purposes.

Though not yet familiar with pending BAC matters, he for many years has been one of the two-year community college's most interested and best informed citizens. He has devoted much time to such good causes as the establishment of BAC's campus here in 1983 and its purchase in 1985.

With intelligence, thorough study, sound business judgment and a considerate attitude emphasizing harmonious progress, the Belleville Area College board surely has the capacity to achieve a new and constructive era. Leo Konzen should be able to serve well in such an environment, because he has all of these qualities.

Since this was a student council project and since the student council had a major role in earning the money to buy the copier, we didn't even question the appropriateness of using the copier and two reams of school paper for this project.

Because some people have construed this recognition gathering as political, we felt we should let you know its origin.

Had we had any idea that this project would have become embroiled in political controversy or would have become a divisive force, we would never have planned it.

GC has pipe dreams; Pontoon Beach has valid dreams of economic growth

To the editor:
I have read in several local newspapers of the desire of Granite City Mayor Von Dec Cruse wanting to take or annex the Village of Pontoon Beach and parts of Nameoki Township.

I am a resident of Pontoon Beach and feel that Mayor Cruse is having pipe dreams. His dreams are actually "nightmares" for myself and all other residents of Pontoon Beach.

Mayor Cruse feels that Pontoon Beach officials are biting off more than they can chew with the recent annexations. Not at all, Mayor Cruse.

Pontoon Village President Glen Wilson is having dreams also, dreams that are, in fact, "nightmares" for Mayor Cruse.

Mayor Wilson is trying to bring economic growth and stability to an area that was not long ago considered by Granite City politicians and residents as the area on "the other side of the tracks," the area that was wet marshland, the area with sewage problems, and the area with no potential. Wrong, Mayor Cruse.

The area that was once known as all the aforesaid is now the area that is now showing signs of growth and economic potential and development.

This is the same area that the new Interstate 255 highway is coming through. Get the picture? Mayor Cruse and an associate recently stated that Pontoon Beach has no borrowing or grant power, no way of providing adequate services and no political clout.

Again, I say, wrong. Pontoon Beach in the past has been dragging its feet, but since Mayor Wilson has been elected, he has put the village in the right direction.

We do have the means of generating revenue, we do have the means of providing services, we have an excellent fire department, and we have a very fine police department.

We are trying to obtain our own post office, and we have a fine

Nameoki Township supervisor and Township Board as well as a fine highway department.

As the village and township grow, we will be able to provide more services.

Mayor Cruse and Granite City officials have their backs to the wall as far as land acquisition is concerned. The only way for them to go is "across the tracks" to that taboo land.

Mayor Cruse, you are doing a fine job for Granite City. But please stay in Granite City and let Mayor Wilson and the Village Board show you what political clout they really have.

If I wanted to be a resident of Granite City, I would have bought in Granite City. I chose Pontoon Beach to live and I want it left that way.

Hang in there, Mayor Wilson; your dreams are more of a reality than your neighboring mayors are.

Konzen ideal BAC board choice

"Everybody who knows him or knows anything about him speaks highly of him." "He has a friend of Belleville Area College." "He is a very reliable, well-thought-of person with a good reputation."

Such comments from fellow BAC board members indicate new Trustee Leo Konzen is getting the best possible start—a virtually unanimous vote of confidence after they had reviewed many possible candidates to fill their board vacancy.

He will need that kind of start, because he is joining the board during the worst possible circumstances—a 3-3 board split on many topics, including the college administration; an unresolved and growing budget imbalance; and difficult issues on the agenda for his very first meeting June 25, including deciding for or against a controversial faculty contract.

Tea originated as a student project

To the editor:
We would like to make the community aware of just what the idea of a recognition tea to honor Dr. Redmond, superintendent of schools, originated.

We took a group of student council members to the Illinois Association of Junior High School Councils convention held in Elmhurst, Ill., on May 9 and 10. The purpose for going was for our students to learn how to be more effective leaders.

Student councils from all over Illinois were present although there was more representation from the northern part of the state. Of the southern half schools that were represented, only Trenton and Waterloo came back with any outstanding awards.

The purpose of the council is to enhance leadership in three areas—school spirit, community spirit, and scholarship and citizenship.

Our school did well in the school spirit projects this year, with well over a dozen projects, but we had only three projects dealing with community involvement and only one dealing with scholarship. By attending this convention, we found out what our weak areas were and made a commitment to work on them.

At our last student council meeting in May we decided on three projects to complete before the end of the summer, one of which was to collect books for the pediatric ward at St. Elizabeth Medical Center and another was the Coolidge float in the Shriners' parade. We sold chances for students to ride on the float to raise money to donate to the good the Shriners do for the burn victims of the community.

Our third community project was to hold a tea to tell Dr. Redmond thanks.

We felt an important contribution of Dr. Redmond's has been to show appreciation and recognition for the outstanding achievements of all members of District 9—parents, students and employees.

Since January these people have been spotlighted so it seemed fitting to plan a way to spotlight him for his contribution to education in District 9.

To assure Dr. Redmond's presence, he was consulted for availability in his schedule.

Thursday, June 19, from 7 to 9 p.m. was agreed upon since the township hall was also available at that time.

We decided to open it up to all the community instead of just school children and school personnel, since we felt everyone in District 9 who had not met Max Redmond should have the opportunity.

Since this was a student council project and since the student council had a major role in earning the money to buy the copier, we didn't even question the appropriateness of using the copier and two reams of school paper for this project.

Because some people have construed this recognition gathering as political, we felt we should let you know its origin.

Had we had any idea that this project would have become embroiled in political controversy or would have become a divisive force, we would never have planned it.

Doctor, nurse laws may be reviewed

To the editor:
Last summer the state legislature passed a new Public Utilities Act which will affect the lives and pocketbooks of Illinois residents for years to come.

This year, another piece of legislation is coming up which may have a more dramatic effect on our purse strings.

I am speaking of a review of the laws governing the medical and allied professions. Senate Bill 1913 will—as in the case of the Public Utilities Act last year—establish a joint committee to review laws governing the doctors, nurses and many other medical workers who provide us with health care.

Common Cause/Illinois urges citizens to ask the legislature to enact this bill in order to provide strong legislative oversight and the opportunity for public input during the review process.

This need for public input cannot be overstressed. I was in Springfield last week and I saw a lobbyist for the medical profession speaking to Sen. Dawn Netch Clark, sponsor of SB 1913, before she could get off the Senate floor.

We need as much participation as possible from the general public to balance these professional lobbyists.

When this bill came through the Senate, Senator Frank Watson, a pharmacist, cast one of the four dissenting votes.

Common Cause/Illinois urges the Rules Committee either as SB 1913 or a modified form that will meet the approval of the Democratic leadership, for a vote in the House.

I urge all citizens to write or call their representatives and urge them to support a review process of the laws governing the medical profession that will involve a joint committee and public participation.

Common Cause/Illinois is concerned that the views of all citizens are heard when these matters come up for review and not just the pleas of the paid professional lobbyists who attend the hearings.

Board should define basis of dispute

To the editor:
I am confused about what the local school board is doing that has caused so much criticism.

I would like to hear from a representative of the school board that all actions taken during the past school year have been according to the law.

I would also like to know that our superintendent, Dr. Max Redmond, is being allowed to perform all of the functions for which he is paid a substantial salary. This is my special concern because other citizens are speaking out to say that the board does not want to accept the superintendent's personal recommendations.

Will the school board define the problem that they have with Dr. Redmond? What are the facts?

Many citizens have drawn many assumptions, but they do not know all of the facts. Based on these assumptions, some solutions are being discussed.

As a legislator for most of my 40-year career, I know that all of the facts must be known before a problem can be solved.

As a property owner, I am interested in the school system, as I know this is a prerequisite to successful acquisition of new industry. I want Granite City to attract families who are drawn to this community because there is a them an outstanding school system. We cannot afford to let the name of Granite City because there are school board disputes.

Your newspapers have done an outstanding job of keeping the public aware that there is a problem between our superintendent and the school board. I commend you for your efforts.

Honored for saving man's life

By Deborah Williams

Paula Gonterman, a certified respiratory therapy technician and day shift supervisor in the Pulmonary Services Department at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, is one of over 30 new recipients of the regional Hospital Gold Medal Award.

Presented by the Hospital Association of Metropolitan St. Louis, the award was received by her during an awards luncheon May 28 at the Sheraton St. Louis Hotel.

"Each year, hospital associates perform significant acts which demonstrate skill, dedication and concern for the well-being of others," said Paul Raczewicz, SEMC executive vice president.

"However, these associates often do not receive the full recognition they deserve. The Hospital Gold Medal Awards program is designed to honor one associate from each hospital who has performed a significant act or acts."

Gonterman was nominated for her quick thinking and the application of CPR (cardiopulmonary resuscitation) during a life-or-death situation at Our Lady of the Snows Shrine last November.

"While touring the Shrine with members of the SEMC Better Breathers Club, she came upon a man lying unconscious on the floor inside the gift shop. His head was being held by a lady, and he was not breathing."

After making inquiries, Gonterman began administering CPR to the man until an ambulance arrived 15 to 20 minutes later.

At the request of the ambulance personnel, she continued to assist until the man was ventilated and ready for transfer.

This was the second time she had to use her nursing and CPR skills during her personal time. But as a certified respiratory therapy technician and licensed practical nurse, she uses CPR every day.

"It really wasn't out of the ordinary for me," said Paula. "It was like work. It was like part of the job."

"It's a lot different, though, when you're in a hospital and you have all the equipment to assist you."

"But this was a situation where someone had to do something for this man or he wouldn't have made it to the ambulance."

Twilight parade will launch fair

The 1986 Illinois State Fair will begin with the traditional twilight parade at 6 p.m. Wednesday, Aug. 6, using the theme "Music in Motion."

About 100 entries are expected by Fair officials. Some groups already entered include The One, The Only, The Original All Kazoo Band of Milwaukee, a 45-member bagpipe corps from Hazelcrest, Ill., the U.S. Marine Corps Marching Band from North Carolina, the Satellite Pacesetters Drill Team of Greenville, Ky., and the Belleville Black Knights Drum and Bugle Corps. The Budweiser Clydesdales will also be featured in the parade.

Parade entries are being accepted until July 11.

Floors will be divided into commercial and non-commercial categories and judging will be based on title and theme, proportions, craftsmanship and public appeal, balance and space, color, animation and sound effects, ingenuity.

The high school marching band contest will be held in conjunction with the twilight parade. All Illinois high school marching bands are eligible to compete for premiums totaling $3,500. The top band receives $1,000 for winning the 1986 competition and another $1,000 in 1987 for marching as the twilight parade honor band.

Judging is based on showmanship, marching and maneuvering and music. Last year's marching band winner was the Lincoln-Way Marching Knights of New Lenox.

The parade begins at 11th Street and Capitol Avenue in Springfield and continues on to the fairgrounds.

Adlai unveils new 'Solidarity Party'

Adlai Stevenson's new "Solidarity Party" announced its full slate of candidates Friday, seven of them hope to lose. Stevenson resigned in April as the Democratic candidate for governor rather than run with Mark Fairchild, the Lyndon LaRouche associate who won an upset victory in the March primary to be the official Democratic nominee for lieutenant governor. Another LaRouche disciple, Janice Hart, won the party's nomination for secretary of state.

In order to continue a repeat challenge to incumbent Republican Gov. James Thompson, Stevenson was forced to field a third-party ticket with candidates for all state offices including four now held by Democrats.

U.S. Sen. Alan Dixon, Attorney General Neil Hartigan, treasurer candidate Jerome Cosentino and Comptroller Roland Burris all were consulted on the Solidarity Party candidates who are slated to run "against" them "solely to satisfy the legal requirements."

The token candidates will work for the election of the four Democrats, Stevenson said. Picked for the U.S. Senate spot was Einar Dyhrkopp, 60, a businessman and longtime political activist from Shawneetown whose wife is on the Democratic State Central Committee. Stevenson aides have conceded one major reason for picking Dyhrkopp was that his unusual name might discourage voters.

For attorney general, the Solidarity Party candidate is John R. Keith, a 38-year-old Springfield attorney who works as a special assistant attorney general for Democratic incumbent Neil Hartigan. Keith was briefly an appointed member of the Illinois House and former legal counsel to the Illinois Senate president.

Bill Skedd, 34, an employee of the Metropolitan Sanitary District of Greater Chicago, was slated as the Solidarity Party candidate for treasurer. The Democratic candidate, Cosentino, is a former sanitary district commissioner.

Patricia Scott, director of Bryant and Stratton College in Chicago and formerly in charge of Comptroller Burris' campaign committee, is the Solidarity candidate slated for comptroller.

Three nominal candidates for University of Illinois trustees were also picked by Stevenson to fill out the slate.

Earlier, Michael Howlett Jr., a former Cook County judge, and Jane Spiegel, a DuPage County Board member, agreed to run on Stevenson's slate as serious candidates for lieutenant governor and secretary of state, respectively.

Stevenson had sought to run as an independent along with Howlett and Spiegel, but so far has failed to obtain court approval. A "sore losers" law prevents declaring an independent candidacy after a party primary.

There is no bar against a third party, but the party must have a full ticket — and it must obtain sufficient petition signatures of persons who do not sign Republican or Democratic candidates' petitions.

Quinn assails lawmakers' pensions as too generous

Patrick Quinn, commissioner of the Cook County Board of (Tax) Appeals and founder of the Illinois Coalition for Political Honesty, is calling on lawmakers to enact pension revisions, scaling back benefits received by former legislators, judges and statewide elected officials.

Quinn released a list of the annual pension amounts paid to 202 former legislators and state officials by the General Assembly Retirement System.

He said U.S. Sen. Alan Dixon is receiving a $30,359 state pension as well as earning his $76,000 salary.

Along with his $76,000 pay, U.S. Sen. Paul Simon receives a $17,604 yearly pension.

Chicago's $60,000-a-year mayor, Harold Washington, gets a state pension of $18,946.

Three retired local area state legislators receive the following: Celeste Stiehl, $12,972, Everett Steele $7,560 and Joe E. Lucco, $2,832 yearly.

"Up to now, pensions paid to politicians have always been marked top secret and have never been disclosed," Quinn said. "It's inexcusable that such basic information should be hidden from the public."

He obtained the data through a Freedom of Information Act lawsuit.

"Pension records show Illinois taxpayers help pay for more than $69,002 a year in pension benefits to 34 'retired' elected officials who are currently drawing paychecks on other public payrolls. Fifteen receive pensions of more than $20,000 a year," Quinn said.

He urged a new state law before the General Assembly considers a resolution to give 10 percent pay raises to the governor, legislators, judges and other state officials.

"State pension obligations skyrocket every time the Assembly hands out raises, because pensions are directly tied to legislators' and judges' final salaries," Quinn said.

"Altogether during fiscal year 1984, $13 million was paid in public pensions to former legislators, judges and state elected officials. The survivors. This amount is expected to increase by more than 50 percent during the next 15 years even if public officials never receive another pay raise."

"The pension plan for Illinois legislators is the most generous legislative retirement program in the country. A veteran Illinois legislator retiring at age 55 and living until age 78 will receive 2 1/2 times as much pension as his private sector counterpart."

"The average annual pension received by former legislators is currently $12,485 and by former judges is $30,743. In comparison, the average Social Security payment received by Illinois retirees is $5,539."

"Two hundred years ago, our country's founders envisioned a class of citizen legislators," Quinn said. "Today in Illinois, we have a class of professional politicians who spend more time providing for their own security than looking after the economic needs of their constituents."

"Illinois legislators and statewide elected officials qualify for a pension after as few as four years of service. Judges qualify for a pension after as few as six years."

"They can receive annual pension payments as high as 85 percent of their final salary. In addition, pension recipients receive an automatic 3 percent cost-of-living increase every year."

"Unlike Social Security and virtually every private pension plan, these state pension plans are tied to their salaries on the last day of service. Other plans use the recipient's average salary over a number of years."

The bill proposed by Quinn would alter pensions paid to retired elected officials in six ways:

• Former legislators, judges and statewide elected officials could not receive pension payments while collecting a state or local government paycheck.

• "Double-dippers" could not receive credit for two pensions simultaneously.

• Pensions could not be collected until age 65.

• Pensions upon retirement could not exceed 75 percent of final salary.

• Officeholders who serve 10 or fewer years could not receive a pension greater than 25 percent of final salary; and

• Pensions would be calculated on an average of that official's last four years' pay instead of the final salary.

Quinn said he expects the bill to pass the General Assembly in the next few months.

Rally here on 'saving' steel industry, jobs

"Save the steel industry" will be the goal of a rally Saturday at the Madison Armory Hall.

This Saturday, June 21, has been declared "Save American Industry and Jobs Day" to focus attention on efforts to save America's basic industries and the jobs associated with those industries.

The United Steelworkers of America in conjunction with other AFL-CIO unions and with steel companies — and in cooperation with a cross-section of local community leaders — is planning a 90-minute live teleconference linking more than 100 Save American Industry and Jobs Day rallies across the United States.

The rally here will include workers, businessmen and civic and political leaders including U.S. Sen. Alan Dixon, State Sen. Sam Vadalabene, State Rep. Sam Wolf and others.

Dixon will speak at about noon. The satellite program will be broadcast at 12:30 p.m. (Central Daylight Saving Time) from the main stage event in Washington, D.C., at which will be assembled between 1,000 and 1,500 participants along with program moderator USWA President Lynn Williams.

A spokesman said, "Steelworkers realize the role they must play in rebuilding the nation's steel industry, and that other problems must be addressed outside of collective bargaining agreements."

"Beginning efforts to save the industry include a multifaceted action program steelworkers have entered into with five of the nation's largest steel companies called a Steel Crisis Agreement."

"This agreement calls for a concerted effort by labor and management together, such as the June 21 cross-country rallies, to bring to the attention of the American people and the U.S. Congress the plight of our basic industries... to act now, before it is too late."

Jim Kelahan, staff representative for this area's United Steelworkers of America, is coordinator for the local rally, to be held at the Armory Hall, 1711 Kennedy Drive, Madison, starting at approximately 11:15 a.m.

Any persons interested in participating in the rally are welcome to attend.

The spokesman said, "The telecast will provide a powerful message, uniting the rallies and focusing public attention on the importance of acting to save America's basic industries."

"In addition to the broadcast linkage between the rallies across the country, the program will also feature reports from a steel mill site, an auto plant and a state capitol to help present key issues, problems and concerns of communities — communities that are in distress across America because of the crisis in the steel industry and related jobs."

Injured deserve best in care

Accidental injuries are a fact of life. Unfortunately, too many lives. Ships, falls, bumps, bangs... in the home, on the highways, at the job take their toll daily.

"From my vantage point," said Dr. Richard Reinhardt of the Reinhardt Chiropractic Center, "it was obvious that some special effort must be made to accommodate the care and treatment of accidental injuries. The need for this care is created in the split-second instant of an accident, and the care itself poses different problems by its very nature."

That is why the Reinhardt Center has recently expanded its clinical preparedness with emphasis on treatment of accidental injuries, he said.

"The working man deserves the best in care," Reinhardt said. "He needs to be able to look for competent, specialized care to get him back on the job."

"The victim of an auto accident should seek immediate specialized care." Serious and costly injuries do not always result in immediate pain or bloodshed. A thorough examination following an accident is necessary to insure proper diagnosis and prevention of long-term post-accident suffering from seemingly minor or unnoticed injuries.

Reinhardt said whiplash injuries from auto accidents occupy much of the staff's time.

"This is probably becoming the nation's number one problem. A whiplash left untreated can open a Pandora's Box of troubles, so we've tried to prepare ourselves to treat the problem with the maximum care," he said.

He said the new emphasis on accidental injury treatment underscores the role chiropractic has in caring for the patient who sustains injuries on the job or in a car.

Weekly Health Tip

CANCER PREVENTION

To reduce the likelihood of cancer of the digestive tract, "switch from white bread to whole wheat or bran bread; increase fresh fruits, such as apples and oranges, and emphasize leafy vegetables such as cabbage, spinach, also broccoli and cauliflower," urges Dr. Guy R. Newell, a director of the National Cancer Institute. He suggests that bulk (what grandma called roughage) has a possible anticancer effect. "The addition of fresh fruits and vegetables to one's diet may aid to minimize the chances of acquiring cancer," he says.

Elsah puts freeze on tourists

The Elsie Village Board last week imposed a moratorium on zoning changes or variances as residents agonize over whether the village has become a victim of its own success.

Placement of the village on the National Register of Historic Places and state tourism efforts have attracted droves of tourists, but some residents in the village of 110 persons feel shocked over the influx.

"We may lose exactly what everyone is trying to capitalize on," said Patty Taetz, village board member, who voted for the moratorium.

The majority of residents worried about overdevelopment "were visitors here once themselves," said Mary Ann Pitchford, wife of Mike Pitchford, who voted against the moratorium.

Pitchford said he feels the moratorium is an unnecessary "double whammy" because the village board already has the power to limit commercial development. Such matters should be decided on a case-by-case basis, he said.

Pitchford said he stands "somewhere in the middle" on commercial development, and he understands the concerns of those who supported the moratorium. "I can understand everyone's concerns, but at the same time this is a town, and development is part of a town. Some commercial development is not necessarily a canker on the town," said Pitchford.

Mrs. Taetz' husband, Gerald, a member of the village Zoning Board of Appeals, said there has been a dramatic increase in requests from residents who want to turn their homes into sources of income by offering crafts or other items for sale.

He said that at a zoning board meeting this month the board was asked to consider a request for a zoning change and two requests for variances.

That prompted his proposal for a moratorium until a town meeting is held to discuss the future course of the entire village. Such a meeting is contemplated for late October.

"Last night, at the village board meeting, it appeared that half the town turned out," Taetz said.

Mrs. Taetz said she and other supporters of the moratorium fear a situation similar to Freeport, Maine, the home of L.L. Bean sporting goods, where commercial development has overwhelmed the town and tourists jam the sidewalks in the summer.

Residents of Freeport now compare the once sleepy New England town to New York City and L.L. Bean to Bloomingdale's.

Mrs. Taetz said she and her husband, like many other residents, felt it would be a quiet, residential village.

"We thought since we were in a historic district, there would be some protection from overdevelopment," she said.

She said she does not want to discourage progress, but many residents are "in an uproar" over the sudden changes.

She and her husband operate the Maple Leaf Cottages, which was a business property when they moved in.

She said she also understands the concerns of those on the other side of the question.

"It's a case of preservation of the village versus freedom to do what you want. How can you say yes to some and no to others," she said.

She feels the majority of residents are in favor of the moratorium.

An informal vote of the 12 families represented resulted in 10 in favor of the measure and two against. Village trustees voted 3-1 for the moratorium, with only Pitchford against it.

Demolition sought

GRANITE CITY — Demolition or repair of two more houses in the city will be sought.

The Granite City Council unanimously passed resolutions Tuesday night providing for the demolition or repair.

The residences, located at 2770 and 2772 Madison Ave., have been deemed dangerous and unsafe by city building inspector John Jakich.

A written notice will be sent to the owners of the homes and the city will apply for a court order to have the buildings demolished or repaired, unless demolition or repair is made within 15 days of receipt of the notice.

The resolutions were introduced by 2nd Ward Alderman Sam Whitman, ordinance committee chairman.

Chemical dependency class series offered

The Edgewood-Edwardsville Chemical Dependency Facility has announced an educational program. A group meets Tuesday evenings, from 7 to 9, and a four-week series includes the disease and symptoms of chemical dependency, the family affected by chemical dependency, prevention, and the recovery process.

Free to the public, the educational program is for individuals who want to understand chemical dependency.

For information, Edgewood-Edwardsville can be called at 656-6720 or the public relations department of St. Elizabeth Medical Center at 798-3167.

Meeting set for Friday

Business sites pinpointed for accuracy

Local governments will be able to keep a closer eye on the accuracy of their sales tax revenue because of a new cooperative project developed by the Illinois Department of Revenue.

"Project: Business Locations" is a joint effort between the Department of Revenue and local governments. It allows the department to exchange current business address information with counties and municipalities to ensure local sales tax allocations are properly credited.

A group of revenue specialists will explain the cooperative program in a meeting at 10 a.m. Friday in Collinsville. The meeting, for officials from Calhoun, Greene, Jersey, Macoupin, Madison, St. Clair and Monroe counties, will be at the Collinsville Holiday Inn.

This is the 12th of 13 meetings being held across the state to familiarize local government officials with "Project: Business Locations." Local officials unable to attend their own area's scheduled meeting are encouraged to attend the next meeting.

The final meeting will be at 10 a.m. July 11 at the Mt. Vernon Holiday Inn for officials from 31 southern counties.

Officials who do not attend their scheduled meeting will automatically be mailed their initial lists.

The heart of the project involves a massive effort by the Department of Revenue to gather street addresses for every Illinois branch of a business that pays sales tax. The department will then compile four different lists of information, pinpointing the actual location of every business in a locality, along with other identifying information, including the specific name of each business.

The department will distribute these lists periodically to government officials in that locality and to neighboring localities.

Local officials then will check the lists against their own records to make sure local sales taxes — which are collected by the department and returned — are being allocated to the proper local government.

"We hope that with this joint effort we can eliminate the problem of misallocation," said J. Thomas Johnson, director of the Department of Revenue. "There is always a hardship involved when a local sales tax is improperly credited for whatever reason."

"By beefing up our business location files, and with the cooperation of county and municipal officials, we can detect any errors or changes and correct them right away."

In the past, addresses provided by taxing businesses may have been only a post office box, may have included several branches under one address, may not have reflected an annexation, or may have been in error.

If this caused the local sales tax from this business to be credited to the wrong county or municipality, the local government had to return the tax to the proper government. These adjustments would include tax dollars for as far back as the department had records. The repayments were phased in over a period of time to lessen any hardship.

After Jan. 1, 1987, these adjustments will go back for only six months. The time limit will be two years for adjustments identified before 1987.

Under the new program, the Department of Revenue will gather specific location addresses of each taxing business, compile the information into lists, and submit them to local governments. Those government officials are to review and verify the information.

The four lists available to a local government are as follows:

1. A list of all businesses within the municipality's or county's taxing jurisdiction. This list is produced annually and is automatically given to each local government.

2. Monthly updates, containing only accounts to which changes were made during the preceding month. This, too, is automatically sent to local governments.

3. A complete list of all businesses in the area involved, reflecting the most recent changes. This is available upon request by the local government involved.

4. A copy of a neighboring jurisdiction's list, available upon request.

The program has been phased in over the past year.

FREEDOM IS GOOD FOR YOUR HEALTH

Freedom is good for your health because among your rights is the freedom to select the doctor of your choice, and that they can show the Court that it is in the "best interest of the child." Thus, a grandparent proceeding under this Act can avoid the requirement of showing that the natural parents are unfit.

In one recent case, the natural mother of the minor child died. The father was unable to care for the child at that time, and he voluntarily placed the child with the paternal grandparents for more than 6 years. The father then returned and asked the grandparents to give him the child. They refused, so he took the child by force.

The grandparents in this case chose to bring an action under the Illinois Marriage and Dissolution of Marriage Act. The question arose as to whether the grandparents could demonstrate that the child was "not in the physical custody of one of his parents" so as to allow them to proceed under this Act. The Court held that the father had voluntarily relinquished physical custody of the child, and that a hearing should be held to determine what was in the "best interests of the child."

THE LAW AND YOU

BY RICK REED

sometimes grandparents indicate a desire to seek legal custody of their grandchild. This may occur because they consider the natural parents unfit to raise the child or because one of the parents dies. The question arises as to what the grandparents must demonstrate in Court in order to be awarded legal custody of the minor child in these situations.

Illinois law recognizes that in child-custody disputes, it is presumed that the custody of a natural parent to the custody of a child is superior to the claim of a third person. In certain situations, however, grandparents can be awarded custody. If they seek to obtain legal custody of the child under the Juvenile Court Act, they will have to show that the parents are "unfit."

Otherwise, if they attempt to adopt the grandchild under the Adoption Act, they will have to obtain the consent of the natural parents or prove them to be "unfit" in Court.

Grandparents can also elect to pursue legal custody of their grandchild under the Illinois Marriage and Dissolution of Marriage Act. Under this Act, they will first have to demonstrate that the child is "not in the physical custody of one of his parents." Once this requirement is met, they will be considered for legal custody if they can show the Court that it is in the "best interest of the child."

Isaiah 44:24 "...I am the Lord that make all things."

How easy it is to forget that God is the Creator. Not only did He create the universe, but He is the Creator of man. He made us, we did not make Him. Yet, we continually try to make God in our image.

We seem to want a God that winks at us. One who is not at all serious about holiness and righteousness — One who will let us live as we please and then take us to a place called Heaven.

He that cometh to God must believe that He is, and that He is a rewarder of them that diligently seek Him. We must await our Heavenly Father and submit our will to His. Let us fulfill the purpose for which we were created.

KITCHEN, BATH & HOME INTERIOR IDEAS

How Much Will It Cost To Remodel Kitchen or Bath?

Remodeling a bath or kitchen never is cheap, and often it can cost quite a lot.

This is easy to realize when you consider that it involves several different trades such as plumbers, electricians, carpenters, designers, tile set.

Paul Schifferdecker, and even inspectors, as well as any number of fine products.

How much will it cost you? You might consider it this way. The norm for fully-designed and remodeled kitchen is about $10,000 for bathrooms about $4,000.

But you can do less and spend less. Many kitchens are done for $4,000, many baths for $2,000, but such prices can not involve new design or structural changes.

The main point to remember is that you are doing something for the years ahead. Your trip to Europe is over in two weeks. Your new car loses half its value when you drive it home.

But your new kitchen or bathroom is used every day for many years and both can add significantly to the value of your home if ever you want to sell. Come in, and let's talk it over.

Back cushions a relief for policemen's backaches

By Bill Bagby
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Fighting "bad guys" isn't the only problem police officers face.

Many policemen have to deal with back problems as well. But a local chiropractor is helping to ease the pain.

Dr. Charles King Jr. of the Back Pain Relief Center at 1509 24th St. presented 14 contoured cushions Monday to Police Chief Bill Harris to be used in squad and detective cars.

"The CUSHION is designed to support the lumbar, or lower back, area while the officer is driving by keeping the lumbar spine in slight extension," King explained.

Studies have indicated that sitting and reversing of the lumbar curve is a major cause of back problems.

"This keeps the natural curve in the low back and tension off the muscles," he said.

The cushion will help prevent future back problems as well as help those officers who presently suffer with back trouble.

"Physicians notice a high incidence of back pain in individuals whose jobs involve sitting," King said.

"SITTING INCREASES pressure within the (back) disc by as much as ten times," he added. "If you do have a disc injury, sitting will bring it out."

Six of King's patients are policemen, he said, including some Granite City police officers. Most of their back problems are due to the constant sitting and getting in and out of patrol cars, he said.

Preventative measures can also help officers to keep from having back problems, King said. These include proper lifting techniques, staying physically active, having good muscle tone and maintaining the proper weight.

"I hope the cushions will alleviate the problem," Harris said.

Several members of the police force suffer from back problems, Harris said. One retired officer is receiving a disability pension due to back problems, he said.

William Russell

Russell state Elks officer

William A. Russell, 3125 Aubrey Ave., vice president and treasurer of the Illinois Elks Association at its annual meeting, held in Peoria.

The Illinois Elks Association has 92 lodges and 57,000 members in the state.

Russell is married to Wilma Wilson Russell. They have two children, William A. II and Sherry Kaye Shaw, both residing in Granite City, and six grandchildren.

He has served the local lodge as exalted ruler and chairman of the Board of Trustees and was state treasurer in 1984-85.

It was announced at the annual state meeting that the national Elks convention is to be held in Denver on July 14-18.

Bicyclists will ramble July 20

Going for a bicycle ride at 2 a.m. may sound lonely but it's definitely not for the birds. Over 1,000 bicyclists are expected to ride on Sunday, July 20, in this year's Night Owl Ramble, co-sponsored by Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Southwest Illinois and the YMCA of Southwest Illinois - Life Adventures Program.

Anyone who enjoys riding a bicycle is encouraged to participate in the ramble. Participants can choose between two circular routes through Swansea and Belleville, a long route of 18 miles or a shorter route of 10 miles.

Registration begins at midnight at the Belleville Area College parking lot, 2500 Carlyle Road. The registration fee is $3 per person or $8 per family. All proceeds will benefit the two youth-serving sponsors.

Pre-registration is also available. Registration forms are on hand at Belleville Bowling & Sport Shop, Bicycle World, Carl Smith, Earl's Sports, Endres Cycle Sales, the Outdoor Store, Schwinn Pedal Inn, YMCA of Southwest Illinois and Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Southwest Illinois, the latter at 10025 Bunkum Road, Fairview Heights.

All participants must sign a waiver of responsibility and persons under the age of 18 must have a parent or legal guardian sign the waiver for them.

For further information, the numbers are 398-3162 or 398-1745.

Groups split on tort reform

Business and labor, through their major lobbying organizations, are split this spring on "tort reform," on expanding requirements for "prevailing wages," and barring employers from firing someone for making a health insurance claim.

On the other hand, they have reached an agreement on unemployment insurance and are allied in opposing a provision which they contend could result in physician "price-fixing."

On the major issue of this spring's session, the response to the liability insurance premium hikes, the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce and the Illinois State AFL-CIO thus far are on opposite sides of the issue.

The ISCC and other business groups are pushing for changes that would make it more difficult to file lawsuits. The AFL-CIO has largely sided with the Illinois Trial Lawyers Association (attorneys who represent plaintiffs in personal-injury suits) in opposing those changes.

Other controversial bills also have split business and labor.

A bill which has already passed the House to require payment of prevailing wages (generally union scale wages) on all projects built with industrial revenue bonds and Illinois Development Finance Authority bonds is strongly backed by the AFL-CIO. It is vehemently opposed by the State Chamber of Commerce.

Another measure which has passed the House to prohibit employers from discharging an employee for filing a claim under a health insurance policy is also being pushed by the AFL-CIO, with the Chamber lobbying against it.

Two other bills given a high priority by the AFL-CIO and opposed by the State Chamber failed to pass the House. One would have required an employer purchasing a business to honor any existing collective bargaining agreement. The other would have required 90-day advance notice to employees prior to a plant closing. On the issue of unemployment insurance (UI), business and union representatives struck an agreement that is expected to be ratified by the General Assembly this month.

It basically continues the tax on employers at current levels while providing a 4.5 percent increase in UI benefit levels.

An agreement reached between business and labor representatives in 1983 both reduced UI benefits for laid-off workers and increased taxes on employers. That has resulted in the state's UI system being able to pay off most of a massive debt it had incurred to the federal government.

Business and labor groups have also joined together to oppose a pending bill which includes a section allowing for physician review of Preferred Provider Organization (PPO) contracts. Both employer and union groups fear that provision could potentially negate the savings from PPOs. The physician review section is part of a broader bill which contains sweeping new provisions for regulation of physicians.

Medicare bill must be itemized

Many people wait longer than necessary to receive payment from Medicare medical insurance because they do not have itemized bills with their request for payment form, Oliver Holmes, Social Security manager in East St. Louis, said this week.

Medical insurance is the part of Medicare that helps pay for doctor bills, outpatient hospital bills, and other items not covered by hospital insurance. To receive payment under medical insurance, a person generally submits a request for payment form. The doctor or supplier provides an itemized bill to send with the form.

"The bill does not have to be paid before it can be submitted."

"The trouble is that often the bill does not provide a detailed description of the services provided and, therefore, a decision cannot be made as to whether they are covered. As a result, the patient must be contacted for more information before payment is made," Holmes said.

To prevent delay, he said, the person should be sure that each bill shows:

- A description of each service provided.
- The date the service was provided.
- The place the service was provided.
- The charge for each service.
- The doctor or supplier who provided each service; and
- The person's name and health insurance number, exactly as they appear on the Medicare card.

It is helpful if the diagnosis is also shown, Holmes said.

Plant cooperation seen leading to sharing of decision-making

Labor-management cooperation with significant worker participation in decision-making can improve productivity and competitiveness — but often requires difficult adjustments in traditional attitudes about the proper roles of employees and manager.

This is one of the conclusions reached by a group of union and management officials and labor relations experts brought together by the Labor Department's Bureau of Labor-Management Relations and Cooperative Programs for a symposium on the current state and future direction of employee involvement efforts in the United States.

The symposium focused on how to extend cooperation beyond shop floor participation to shared decision-making at other levels. Symposium participants discussed a number of issues, including:

- Developing employment security and compensation policies which build and maintain labor-management cooperation.
- Meeting union skepticism about worker participation programs.
- Reconciling the flexibility required by cooperative approaches with the consistency and predictability needed by labor and management to carry out their traditional functions.

Moving beyond basic cooperative efforts such as quality circles and employee involvement teams to full-scale programs where employees participate in decision-making throughout the organization.

The participants included representatives of a number of the nation's top companies, unions, and universities as well as officials of the Labor Department and the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service.

Private consultants who advise labor and management on cooperative programs also took part in the symposium, held in Wintergreen, Va.

The "Wintergreen Symposium Report" is available free of charge from the Bureau of Labor-Management Relations and Cooperative Programs, Room N419, 200 Constitution Ave., N.W., Washington, D.C. 20026. A self-addressed mailing label is to be included when ordering this publication.

District church conventions will emphasize peace

Angelo Bruno of Granite City has announced that a series of 130 district conventions of Jehovah's Witnesses will be scheduled in the U.S. this summer.

The Watchtower Bible and Tract Society in New York expects 1,250,000 delegates to attend "Divine Peace" conventions scheduled in 65 cities.

The four-day conventions will begin June 12-15 and continue through Aug. 14-17. The program will be presented in nine languages, with a record 11 Spanish-language meetings this year.

Bruno said, "Two conventions are scheduled for the Arena in St. Louis during July. The program will stress the brotherly understanding of the principles contained in the Bible is vital if genuine peace is to be achieved."

Jehovah's Witnesses believe we are living in the last days. The dramatic events we have witnessed in the world during this generation indicate that God's Kingdom by Christ will soon exercise its authority over all nations of the earth. It alone will bring a permanent peace."

Bruno said whole families attend the annual district meetings and that the counsel presented during 19 hours of lectures, discussions and drama will highlight the need to reach for spiritual and not material gain in modern life.

Park district swimettes begin June 23

The Granite City Park District will offer swimettes beginning June 23.

Swimettes is an aquatic conditioning class similar to an aerobic class. However, doing exercises in the water can have important advantages. Water provides a weightless environment that can sharply reduce the possibility of common aerobic injuries, and, for the healthy fitness enthusiast, water can add extra resistance to the workout.

The classes will be offered Monday and Wednesday from 10:15 to 11 a.m., and Tuesday and Thursday from 8:15 to 9 p.m.

Signups will begin Friday, June 20, at 9 a.m. at the Wilson Park office. The class will be limited to the first 30 participants to sign up.

Lee Suarez will be instructing. The class will run eight weeks at a cost of $7.50 for park district residents and $17.50 for non-residents.

One out of eleven women will develop breast cancer.

Perhaps the two most frightening words to a woman are breast cancer. The number one killer of females, breast cancer is a disease caused by an uncontrolled growth of abnormal cells in the breast tissue. But with detection, effective treatment can be started immediately, therefore improving the patient's prognosis. The survival rate among women who find cancer before it is noticeable is 97 percent.

To answer the need for early detection of breast disease, St. Elizabeth Medical Center has established the Breast Diagnostic Program, which provides mammographies at almost half the cost of such procedures being done elsewhere. A convenient diagnostic procedure, a mammogram provides patients with high quality, high sensitivity images with minimal radiation exposure.

Following the guidelines by the American Cancer Society, this simple, painless exam is currently the best method of detecting breast disease. The ACS recommends all women age 35 to 40 have an initial, routine mammogram; diagnostic exams periodically between age 40 and 50; and yearly exams after age 50.

If you're a woman age 35 or older, call SEMC's Breast Diagnostic Program at 798-3181 for more information.

How many will detect it in time?

Scheduling for the general public began May 5 and will end on Monday, June 16. The program will continue until all requests for it have been met. The cost is $55, which includes the interpretation fee. Normally, such a procedure would cost $95 to $100.

Kindergarten 'instituted' at SIUE

An institute dealing with the changing role of kindergarten in the educational process will be offered at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, June 23-July 3, Monday through Friday from 1 to 4:30 p.m.

Titled "Ed Ed 433g - Full Day Kindergarten: Issues and Implications," the offering carries four quarter hours of credit.

Current legislation, changing entrance dates, new attendance patterns, the growth of early childhood education, and increased parental expectations will be addressed, according to Susan Nail, associate professor of education. She said these matters are creating controversy and confusion in kindergarten classrooms.

The State of Illinois has authorized full-day kindergarten programs; both Missouri and Illinois have changed kindergarten entrance dates. The workshop will be concerned with questions raised as a result of these actions. The Kindergarten Institute has been designed to offer guidance and direction to both teachers and administrators in developing appropriate curricula and meeting the challenges of a full-day program.

The specific content of the institute includes the following: a national, state and local perspective; information from state departments and professional organizations; literature and research findings; developmentally-appropriate curriculum; role of reading and language experiences; role of play; full-day program scheduling; parental involvement; transition issues - early childhood to kindergarten to first grade; developing critical thinking and problem-solving skills; and computers in the kindergarten.

Registration will be accepted through June 23, but early registration is recommended. Formal admission to SIUE is required. For further information, persons may write to Susan Nail, Early Childhood Education, Box 1122, SIUE, Edwardsville, Ill. 62026-1122, or call 692-3082.

Annexation

developed and undeveloped territory. According to Orbital's calculations, almost 4,000 acres of undeveloped land exists surrounding the city.

Committee members will be contacting individual owners seeking annexation petitions.

OVER THE YEARS the city has brought in scattered parcels, but there has been no effort to establish boundaries which would foster growth," Orbital said.

"Through this annexation program, we can use our home-rule powers to promote growth in the Granite City area, not just sit back and wait for it to happen," he said.

Along with the extensive open tracts, the committee will seek to bring two major residential developed areas into the city.

One area is located just north of the city limits between Illinois 203 and the Alton & Southern railroad tracks north to the Granite City Campus of Belleville Area College.

THE OTHER AREA consists of the Gorbie, Wilshire Manor and Town & Country subdivisions, located on the eastern edge of the city.

These two areas comprise approximately 6,000 people, Orbital said.

"Between 1970 and 1980, Granite City lost almost 4,000 people, according to the census," he said.

"In reality, a lot of those people simply purchased homes which were located on the other side of the city line," he said. "Today's boundaries zig-zag up one street and down another, and even separate neighbors."

THE COMMITTEE will seek to get the annexation of these residential areas on the November ballot, he said.

Area College board. The trustees named him Monday night to fill a board vacancy at a time when 3-3 deadlocks have been occurring.

"HOMEWORK" FACES HIM immediately. At its June 25 meeting, the board will decide on a proposed new agreement with the 110-member college faculty.

The faculty voted June 13 to approve a two-year pact, with a $1,400 salary hike, about 4.3 percent, in the first year.

Chancellor Bruce R. Wissore said, "I favor pay hikes but I have advised the trustees I cannot endorse the language changes; cost of the language could well be greater than the cost of the wage settlement. In light of the current budget before the board, there is a serious question of the college's ability to fund this package."

"HIDDEN COSTS and loss of productivity could spell the demise of our popular and profitable telecourse program."

Although not yet taking a stand on this or other decisions facing BAC, Konzen has been close to the college. He is a member of the Citizens Advisory Committee of its Granite City Campus, and was an early advocate of this area annexing to the eight-county, 2,100-square-mile BAC district.

In 1980, he was one of 38 selected to serve on a college-wide citizen committee that reviewed the financial outlook. He was instrumental in BAC's 1983 lease and 1985 acquisition of the former

The new chief said he hopes to implement a computer system to modernize and update the department's records.

Presently, he is securing information on three different systems that could be used by the police department, and then he will seek permission to proceed with the plan.

KONZEN REPLACES Patricia Bartsokas, who resigned May 23, citing personal reasons. The board had 30 days to pick a successor, or the selection would have been made by St. Clair County School Superintendent Martha O'Malley.

He was approved 5-0, with Elizabeth Jenner voting "pre-sent." Student Trustee Susanne Briggs cast her advisory vote for Konzen.

Jenner voiced optimism about Konzen's role on the board and praised his reputation. She said she favored appointing Patricia Murdock, of Alhambra, who was interviewed as part of an executive session lasting more than two hours.

BAC Board Chairman Wayne Reynolds said he had never met Konzen but had heard nothing but good about him. He said there were a number of qualified candidates.

AVERY SCHERMER, board chairman until November 1985, said, "Leo will do a good job. He will be a good representative" for Madison County.

The other six trustees reside in St. Clair County. After an initial field of more than 15 names, all five of the finalists discussed Monday night were Madison County residents.

A partner in the Lueders, Robertson and Konzen law firm, Konzen is a graduate of St. Louis University and its School of Law. Married and the father of three sons.

Water slide fun starts Saturday

By Valerie Evenden

Staff writer

VENICE — Happy laughter and shouts of delight, mixed with the swish of rushing water, will be heard Saturday throughout Lee Park.

The long-awaited opening of the Venice Park District's water slide will take place immediately after ribbon-cutting ceremonies at 1 p.m. Saturday, June 21.

A SNEAK PREVIEW of the slide's merits was afforded this week to children enrolled in the park's summer recreation program. And the experience proved "a hit."

"It's better than ice cream," said one refreshed youngster after trying out the slide this week.

Along with the water slide opening, a community-wide festival will take place, starting at 1 p.m. Friday and continuing through Sunday, Anna Claggett, park board president, announced.

SIX BOOTHS offering hot dogs, snow cones, hot tamales, funnel cakes and beverages will be located on the park grounds.

Venice Mayor Tyrone Echols has been invited to cut the ribbon on opening day, Mrs. Claggett said.

Park district and city officials will be present, along with special guests, George Khasis of Adam's Market and Bob Boothman of Red Fox Grocery.

FORMER PARK Board president, the Rev. John Henry Williams, who spearheaded efforts to obtain the water slide, will offer brief remarks at the ceremony.

The public will be welcomed by Mrs. Claggett. The Rev. Harold Wilson, who also is a park commissioner, will give the invocation.

Operational hours for the water slide beginning Sunday, June 22, and continuing throughout the summer months will be from noon until 10 p.m. on a seven-day schedule.

STARTING AT NOON Saturday, patrons may purchase a 10-slide wristband for $3.50, or a three-slide wristband for $1.50, said Arnold Johnson, park district manager. A single slide ticket will cost 60 cents.

Use of clear plastic wristbands for sliders was decided by the park board to prevent the loss of admission tickets by younger children, and to avoid problems resulting from use of paper tickets around water.

Extra security personnel have been hired by the park district for the summer months and additional lighting was installed adjacent to the slide, Mrs. Claggett said.

There are no definite plans at this time for the building at 501 Madison Ave.

A recent tenant of the 615 Madison Ave. building was the Quad Club, which has moved.

Thomas said the reason for relocating is to better facilitate and improve funeral service and to meet needs of the people in the Madison and Venice communities.

The Sedlack building was specially designed and built in the post-World War II era as a funeral home. It is at the corner of Seventh Street and Madison Avenue. It originally was owned by John Sedlack, who operated the business there until his death in 1980.

The Bug; a curse saved by the VCR

The two-day self-imposed exile was finally getting on my nerves. I was pulled from the game, as it were, because of the flu bug. I was zapped of strength and was forced to retire horizontally on the couch.

Normally, such a position is welcomed with open arms, especially on the weekend. Hey, what better excuse to use when watching the tube?

I must admit, sometimes I'm a television junkie. It clears the mind of outside interruptions. However, the two days I was out sick, I discovered something: the viewing menu offered during the day is the pits.

First off, there is nothing interesting on, and the programs that are scheduled aren't worth the effort. You can watch only so many reruns of "Happy Days" before senility starts to set in.

In my neighborhood they haven't started to install cable, so that ruled out tuning into ESPN. Just think, I missed exciting broadcasts of the "Silver Lasso" rodeo championships live from Wyoming. Or, even better, highlights from the Indianapolis 500. ESPN always saves the good programming for the morning.

But just when everything seemed to be going bad, I was saved. No, the fever hadn't broken, but thanks to the VCR, my exile on the couch was a little more bearable.

I was able to watch "The St. Louis Cardinals — The Movie" and "Heck of a Year." It helped pass the time. I could never understand why it is when you are sick, time passes so slowly, but when you are feeling good, the hours just zoom past.

But the best viewing was watching the tape of the 1985 NCAA basketball championship between Villanova and Georgetown.

Armed with some hot tea with lemon and a new blanket, I just stretched out and enjoyed.

It didn't really matter that I already knew the outcome. It was the idea of watching something decent.

The Villanova-Georgetown game will go down as one of the best in NCAA history. It was better than North Carolina State's win over Houston in 1983.

Villanova set an NCAA record, shooting 75 percent from the field against the Hoyas, a team that had only allowed teams to shoot just under 35 percent during the season.

The Wildcats played a perfectly-executed game, taking time off the clock and looking for the good shot. And, most of the time, they found it.

It was a game of good versus evil. Underdog versus Top Dog. It was also what college sports are about.

For example, Harold Jensen, who came off the bench and scored 14 points (5 for 5 from the floor and 4 for 5 from the line), probably will never turn pro. But for years to come he can remember that night.

I'm thankful that flu bug has passed. It's no fun to be sick. And without a VCR, it's even more distasteful.

I hope I don't get sick for a long time, but I've learned my lesson. I'm going to stock up on some blank tapes and record whenever I get the opportunity. If I'm going to be sick, I'm going to do things right.

Paddlers win first SWISA meet

Paddlers swimming and diving team of Granite City won their first meet of the season over Sunset Hills Tuesday.

In the diving competitions, Paddler scored a 55-13 victory, getting seven first place finishes.

First place was won by Brooke Bjorkman, Billy Clark, Jenny Baker, Tom Senczyn, Susan McConnell, David Baker and Wendy Knollman.

Kyle Harlan, Shelly Hoffman, Jeff Miller, Carla Williams, Ed Melton and Ann Logan each placed second. Scott Mills and Julie Simon took third places.

In swimming, Paddlers overwhelmed Sunset Hills 470-145. The Granite City team captured 54 first place finishes en route to the victory.

Pat Martin won two events (200 IM and 100 butterfly). Other double winners were L. Curry (11-12 boys) and D. Baker (15-17 boys).

Triplets continue skid, lose fifth in row

By Gregg Ochoa

FAIRVIEW HEIGHTS — Just like Morton salt, the Tri-City baseball team discovered when it rains, it pours.

The Triplets continued to abide by Murphy's Law Wednesday and dropped a 13-3 non-division game to Fairview Heights at Longacre Park.

Tri-City has now lost five games in a row and has a record of 1-7 (2-7 overall). The Triplets beat Affton (Mo.) in a non-league game Monday.

Fairview Heights, which recruited most of its players from Belleville East High School, scored four times in the fifth inning, breaking open a 4-3 game.

"If you take that inning away, we had a decent game going," said Tri-City coach Rodger Coakley. "That really blew things open."

It was an error by Doug Partney in left field which opened the floodgates for Fairview Heights. That allowed four unearned runs to score. Partney normally catches, but was pressed into the outfield because Tri-City had only 10 players who dressed for the game. The error was one of two in the inning. Fairview Heights followed with three hits and took an 8-3 lead.

Coakley later said he was contemplating removing starter Mark Bowen, who appeared to get rattled by the play behind him, earlier in the inning.

"I waited too long to make the move," Coakley said. Meanwhile, Fairview Heights pitcher Sam Lance scattered six hits and went the distance for Post 978. Lance struck out 10 and walked five.

The Triplets appeared to have Lance on the ropes in the fourth when they took a 3-1 lead.

Partney was hit by a pitch and went to second when the ball bounced away from catcher Bob Spory. Mark Bowen then scored Partney with a double. Steve Simpson followed with a single and later scored on a base hit by Tim Hogan.

The lead, however, proved to be shortlived. In the bottom of the fourth, Brian Gibson laced a single to right and then stole second. He easily scored on Spory's triple. Lance drove in Spory with a sacrifice fly. Fairview Heights got another run on Tim Meehling's single and led 4-3.

Lance then retired the Triplets in order in the fifth as nobody managed to hit the ball out of the infield.

Fairview Heights sent eight batters to the plate in the fateful fifth, scoring four times on just three hits — all singles.

"If we could have gotten out of that inning, maybe we could have caught them," Coakley said.

Post 978 padded its lead in the sixth, adding five more runs. The big blow was a two-run double by Lance, who had two hits and four RBIs for the game.

The Granite City Optimists' bats were relatively silent. Tri-City managed only one time to put together back-to-back hits in the same inning.

Begando rescues GC Optimists, 8-7

By Dave Whaley

STAFF WRITER — In a game that had all the makings of a nightmarish come-from-ahead loss, Mark Begando had other ideas.

The Granite City Optimists Junior Legion team jumped out to a quick 7-0 lead here against the Affton Post 126 Junior Legion team Tuesday, but found themselves clinging to an 8-6 lead in the sixth inning when Begando was brought in to relieve starting pitcher Mike Georff.

One more run scored, but Begando, with the help of two big plays by catcher Dave Bamber, hung on as the Optimists came away with an 8-7 win to raise their record to 6-1.

Begando allowed three hits in his two innings of work, and an error by shortstop Charlie Collins appeared to open the gates for an Affton rally in the seventh, but Post 126 ran themselves out of chances in each of the last two frames.

After Kurt Wuellner singled in the run that made it 8-7 in the sixth, he was cut down on a perfect throw by Bamber on a steal attempt at second. Vince Massalone, who did a good job in relief for Affton, also singled, but Joe Twitchell flied out to end the inning.

Mike Lewis began the seventh with a hit, and Collins fumbled Tim Kuntz' roller to put the winning run on base. But cleanup hitter Bill Gaither, who had homered his last time up, tried to bunt twice. He missed both pitches, and on the second attempt, he was up between second and third.

Bamber's throw to third baseman Tim Patterson was perfect, and Patterson made the tag despite being spiked by Lewis.

With they tying run at second, Begando fanned Gaither and got Chris Montgomery on a grounder to second to end the game.

It didn't look like it would be that exciting when Granite City scored five runs in the first inning. The Optimists knocked out starter Tim Palen before he had retired one batter.

Randy Chapman started the game with a walk and advanced when Kirk Mills reached on an error. Collins then blasted a double to left center for the first run as Mills stopped at third. Patterson's grounder went right through Kuntz, scoring Mills to make it 2-0.

A walk to Rich Wilson and catcher's interference loaded the bases, and Collins scored on a wild pitch. Darin Hendrickson then got the first of his four hits, a double which brought in Patterson and Wilson and moving Kory Burton to third.

Massalone replaced Palen and immediately fanned Bamber for the first out of the game. Then Burton was thrown out at the plate as he tried to score on Georff's grounder to first.

The Optimists added two more runs in the third on infield hits by Wilson, Burton and Hendrickson, plus an RBI hit by Georff and a walk to Mills.

Alton began its comeback by the third on a sacrifice fly by Twitchell. They got two more in the third on an RBI double by Dietrich and an error by Georff when he threw wildly to third after he had caught Dietrich off second.

Hendrickson restored the lead to 8-3 when he got his third hit leading off the fifth, went to see-

Granite picked up a break when Walter was unable to field the ball cleanly.

Walter's error proved to be detrimental, as Sheet Metal first baseman John Moad capitalized on the second life by lashing a hard liner over the head of Cottleville/Harvester center fielder Scott Schiller to ice the victory.

"John seems to like pressure situations," Nelson said. "He's been one of our more consistent hitters this year. The center fielder was playing if, and he just cranked it over his head. We were lucky to have him here tonight. He also plays on the senior legion team, but (Triplet coach Dave) Coakley gave him permission to come play with us tonight."

Grammer named new wrestling coach

Alan Grammer, a two-time national collegiate champion has been named the new head wrestling coach at Granite City Campus.

Grammer, 25, replaces Norm Dahm. Grammer is a 1986 graduate of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. He has a degree in psychology.

"We are really excited to get a quality wrestler. This will be a major boost to our program," said GCC athletic director Terry Collins.

"By all accounts, he's a very good person — highly motivated and with a real aggressive attitude."

Grammer was NCAA Division II national champion at 126 pounds this year and at 134 pounds in 1985.

He also received Division I All-American honors both years, qualifying for tournament competition through Division II meets.

Originally from Evansville, Ind., Grammer posted a 78-5 record in his junior and senior years at SIU Edwardsville. As a sophomore he placed third at 134 pounds in the Division II tournament.

"Alan is committed to putting in the time to get this program going," Collins said.

Prior to enrolling at SIU, Grammer served two years as assistant wrestling coach at his alma mater, Central High School in Evansville.

Grammer will be GCC's fourth wrestling coach in as many years.

GRANITE CITY — Along with this ever-so-pleasant summer season comes junior legion baseball. Generally, the games that take place on this level are fun. They're competitive, mind you, but for the most part, the air at these games tends to be relaxed and pretty loose.

Wednesday night was no exception. The members of the Granite City Sheet Metal Junior Legion squad had a good time in defeating Cottleville/Harvester Post 462, 7-6.

And after the contest, Sheet Metal manager Jim Nelson said he, too, had enjoyed the proceedings. In fact, so much so that certain parts of his anatomy were feeling the side effects.

"Yeah, that was a good game," Nelson said. "It was so good that I'm a nervous wreck. I don't think I have any fingernails left."

Granite City, indeed, turned the ballgame into a nailbiter's delight, as they waited until there were two outs in the bottom half of the seventh inning to mount their game-winning rally.

After shortstop Jason Smith grounded out to open the inning, it appeared the contest would be going into extra innings when Rich Nelson, who had reached on a walk, was forced at second on a grounder off the bat of Granite catcher Craig Dippel.

Chris Hampsey managed to keep his squad's hopes alive when he punched a single into right field, advancing the potential winning run to second. But Cottleville/Harvester appeared to have dodged the bullet when Jeff Grote poked a grounder to Post 462 shortstop Steve Walter; however,

Granite picked up a break when Walter was unable to field the ball cleanly.

Walter's error proved to be detrimental, as Sheet Metal first baseman John Moad capitalized on the second life by lashing a hard liner over the head of Cottleville/Harvester center fielder Scott Schiller to ice the victory.

GRANITE CITY — Mike Wallace won his second feature event in a row June 14 at Tri-City Speedway in the U.M.P. Late Model stock cars.

Wallace, driving the Bob Quinn Auto Bargain Firebird 6, again fought off Tom Helfrich of Haubstadt, Ind., for the 25-lap win. Gary Webb took the lead at the green flag, but could only hold on for eight laps when Wallace got by him.

Helfrich was second. Webb third, Bill Shaw fourth, Ron Fisher fifth and Chrissy Oliver sixth. Helfrich and Webb won the heat races.

Jake Seets won the sportsman's car feature, followed by John Wolfmeier, Mark Kruse, Mike Seets, Bob Stanton and Ron Wick. Stanton and Wolfmeier won the heat races.

Tim Hancock won the street stock feature event, followed by Dave Hearty and Jerry Harris. Bill Patton and Rick Carter took the heat races.

League playoffs last fall, Moad's game-winning hit was, indeed, a "redeemer."

Prior to playing the role of the game's hero, Moad had helped Cotteville/Harvester jump out to an early 2-0 lead in the second inning when a throw from Hampsey on a putout attempt eluded the Sheet Metal first baseman, allowing Steve Finchman and Mike Hemsath to cross the plate with the first runs of the game.

Granite City hastily erased the deficit in the bottom half of the frame when Kory Burton reached base on an error by Finchman to lead off the inning. After Brian Dix had walked, Nelson laid down a bunt single to jam the bases.

Burton was able to trot home with Granite City's initial run of the contest when Dippel received a free pass from Cotteville/Harvester starter Terry Farrar. Dix and Nelson then gave Sheet Metal its first lead of the contest when they crossed the plate on an error by Port 462 second baseman Joe Fortman on a shot off the bat of Grote.

Granite City added to the cushion in the fourth when Grote drilled a triple deep into center field, allowing Hampsey, who had led off the inning with a walk, to score from first base. The Sheet Metal lead increased to 5-2 when designated hitter Lance Jakich lined a shot that Fortman was unable to handle, plating Grote from third base.

After retiring the side in order in three of his first four innings of work, Granite City starter John Narup saw his lead evaporate in the fifth when Cotteville/Harvester scored four runs on three hits and three walks to regain the lead, 6-5.

The trouble started when Narup surrendered walks to Finchman and Hemsath to open the inning. Walter then narrowed the Sheet Metal lead to one run when he belted a two-run double into the left center field gap. Catcher Dave Campbell regained the lead for his club when he lined a single into right, scoring Walter and Fortman, who had walked.

Granite City kept pace in the bottom half of the inning when Nelson snuck home on a wild pitch from Cotteville/Harvester reliever Kevin Felker after reaching base on Fortman's third error of the contest, knocking the score at 6-6.

After the game, Nelson said his squad's perseverance had been the difference in the contest.

"We had some leads early, but we just weren't able to hold onto them," he said. "But we hung in there and were able to come back, which is something that we just haven't been doing this year. Normally, when we've fallen behind, we've ended up losing the game. This win is especially sweet because they whipped our tails last year."

"We got some key hits and good pitching today. We left some guys on base, but luckily that didn't hurt us too bad. John (Narup) and Mike Kratz pitched well tonight. John turned in six good innings, but he made a few mistakes when he started to get tired. Then Mike really shut them down in the seventh, but that's what he's been doing all year. I don't think he's even given up a run in relief yet this summer. He's been like Goose Gossage for us."

Despite some early season troubles, Nelson also said he has a clue that the best has yet to be seen from his club.

Triplets

"Not to take anything away from (Lance), but we're just not hitting. It's been like that all season," Coakley said.

The Triplets managed just two hits against Marissa, and Collinsville's John Sherry held them to three hits in six innings. Against Smithton, the Triplets had just one hit.

Fairview Heights grabbed a 1-0 lead in the first when Meehling led off with a single and scored on a hit by Jim Sinovic.

Tri-City tied the score in the second. Scott LeVault walked and went to second on a sacrifice by Partney.

Zodd Adamitis then singled to left. The relay from the outfield came to third baseman Kevin Hagarty, who saw that Adamitis had strayed from first. While he ran the ball towards the bag, LeVault alertly scored from third. Adamitis was later tagged out in a rundown.

Good defense kept Fairview Heights off the board in the third. With two outs and Hagarty at second, Todd Hinterser knocked down Sinovic's shot with a diving stop. It saved a run and Tri-City got out of the inning when Matt Frazier popped out.

In all, Tri-City used three pitchers. Mike Georgeff relieved Bowen in the sixth and Steve Davis pitched in the seventh.

The Triplets had the day off today and will host O'Fallon on Friday at Varsity Field. The game will start at 6 p.m.

cond on Bamber's bunt and came across on Georgeff's hit.

Post 126 made it a game with three in the fifth. Twichell doubled home a run, and he scored while Lewis was caught in a rundown between first and second after he reached on a Collins error. Gaither homered far over the left field fence to make it 8-6 with two outs.

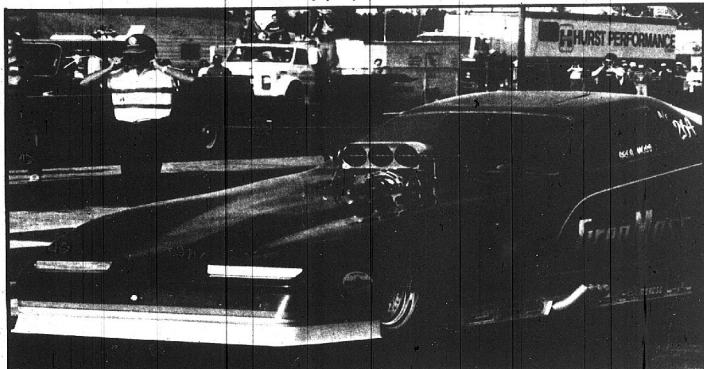

Optimists manager Paul Kacera visited the mound in that inning, but decided to let Georgeff continue into the sixth. But when Dietrich led off with a double, Begando was summoned, and he and Bamber managed to hold Alton off.

The Optimists have now scored 70 runs in seven games. They banded out 10 hits Tuesday and took advantage of three Alton errors in the first inning. They host East Alton tonight at Varsity Field in a 6 p.m. game and travel to Brighton for an 8 p.m. game Friday.

St. Louis well-represented at SLIR Gateway Nationals

By Dave Whaley

Staff writer

FAIRMONT CITY — The International Hot Rod Association returns to St. Louis International Raceway for the second year with the top names in professional drag racing competing for a record purse in the Motorcraft/CARQUEST Gateway Nationals this weekend.

If there is such a thing as a "home track advantage," then two St. Louis-area teams, both point leaders in their respective categories, will be favored to win. The Gateway Nationals are the fifth stop in the IHRA-Winston Challenge Series and will feature racers in pro stocks, pro funny cars and pro alcohol teams.

Darrell Alderman of Morehead, Ky., is the current point leader in the pro stock division with 2,610 points. He drives for noted St. Louis chassis builder Jerry Haas. They have won two national events and hold the world elapsed time record at the Huntsville, Ala., Winston Spring Nationals in Bristol, Tenn., an event which drew 88,000 spectators.

Butch McCall, director of media relations for the IHRA, said he is expecting anywhere from 15,000 to 20,000 people at SLIR this weekend for the races. McCall was in Granite City Wednesday to promote the event along with Greg Moss of Fenton, Mo., a newcomer to the IHRA who surged into the lead in points in the alcohol funny car division with a second place finish at the Huntsville, Ala., World Title Series event June 7-8.

Moss was a virtual unknown before the season began, but took first place at the Bayou Nationals in Eunice, La., April 13, in just his second event on the tour.

"You might say Greg broke in with a bang," McCall said. "Not only did he drive away with the championship, but in the finals, when he pulled the chute to slow down the car as he crossed the finish line, the chute didn't work. He went probably a quarter mile past the finish line and ended up in a body of water beyond the track."

Moss said his car had some minor damages, but he was able to walk away from the accident.

"These cars are more geared towards safety than the boats I used to race," Moss said. "We are completely strapped in and the cars are equipped with automatic fire extinguishers and everything else. Safety is the most important thing."

The alcohol funny cars are a relatively new division of the IHRA, but Moss said the attrition of parts in the alcohol cars is not as great as in the others.

"I can use one car for a couple of years, or maybe about 25 races," he said.

Running a quarter mile race with cars approaching 215 to 220 miles per hour doesn't allow much time for thinking.

"Your reaction time is the thing," Moss said. "There isn't a whole lot of difference in the cars. It's a matter of driving and shifting gears at the right time."

"These cars can go from nothing to slightly more than 200 miles per hour in about six seconds," McCall said.

Soccer clinic

July 7-8 in Alton

A free soccer clinic will be held July 7-8 at Gordon F. Moore Park in Alton for all interested high school players.

Attending the camp will be college head coaches Ed Huneke of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and John McKenzie of Western Illinois University.

The camp will run from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. on both days at Gordon Moore, on Illinois 140 three miles east of Alton.

Moss, 27, drives a green 1986 Pontiac Trans Am. His crew chief is Rick Hickman.

In last year's Gateway Nationals, Dale Pulde of Granada Hills, Calif., won the Pro Funny Car division, while Bruce Allen of Lapeer, Mich., took the Pro Stock division. A crowd of 18,000 watched the finals.

This year, the Pro Funny winner will receive $15,000; the Pro Stock champion will get $4,000; and the Alcohol Funny Car winner will get $3,000.

Gates will open at SLIR, Illinois 203 just north of Interstate 55-70, at 8 a.m. Friday, with Pro Funny and Pro Stock qualifying beginning at 3 p.m. Alcohol Funny qualifying is scheduled for 3 p.m. and 5 p.m.

On Saturday, gates will open at 9 a.m., with Pro Funny and Pro Stock qualifying at 2 p.m., 5 p.m. and 8 p.m. Alcohol Funny qualifying will be at 2 p.m. and 5 p.m. First round eliminations will begin at 10 p.m.

Each division will narrow the field to 16 cars for Sunday, when the gates open at 9 a.m. Final eliminations start at noon.

QCSA handing out suckers

Quad-Cities Soccer Association kids will be standing in front of local banks and super markets June 27-28 passing out soccer suckers and asking for donations for the association.

The association is non-profit and all donations will be used towards finishing and maintaining the soccer fields at the QCSA complex behind Prather School.

The children will be at the banks on Friday, June 27, and at the super markets Saturday, June 28.

A School of Instruction was conducted last week for members and officers of Bethel 43, Order of Job's Daughters, at the Masonic Temple.

The meeting was conducted by Queen DeAnn Toenyes under the direction of Bethel guardian Charlotte Root and associate Bethel guardian Ralph Baker.

During the meeting Beth Barr was installed as third messenger and Diane Kaltmayer was installed as treasurer by the queen, since they had not been present for the formal installation ceremonies.

Announcement was made that the Bethel won first place in the patriotic division in the 1986 Shriners' parade.

Committee appointments for the term included Keri Smith for the sunshine group and auditing, Melanie Paschedag, Christy Dawson and Tracy Rich.

Baker, also worshipful master of Masonic Lodge 877, announced that both the 835 and 877 lodges will sponsor a booth at Wilson Park during the Fourth of July celebration. They will be selling fried pies, and asked the Bethel members to assist in the fund-raising project.

Tentative plans for a trip to Six Flags were discussed, with the date to be decided at the next meeting.

After the meeting, refreshments were served.

Summertime

Another season at the Wilson Park swimming pool is in full swing with hundreds visiting the facility each day. Many patrons of the pool are school children enjoying their summer vacation.

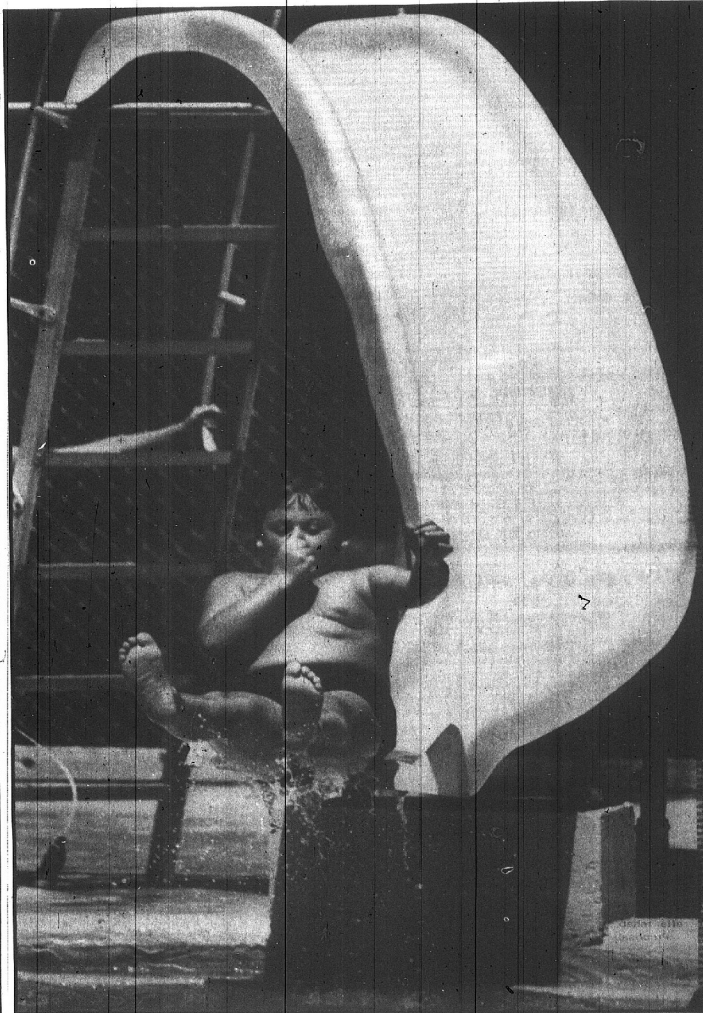

The 42-year-old pool is not without its problems, though, as leaks plague the landmark again this year. But the staff is keeping the pool open for another summer.

Infants to senior citizens use the pool daily, participating in a variety of classes, but many patrons just try to beat the summertime temperatures already being experienced here by taking a dip. Sunbathers also take advantage of the poolside deck, soaking up the rays of the sun and darkening their tans.

KEEPING WATCH is Paula Bills, one of the lifeguards at the pool.

TAKING THE PLUNGE off the slide is 7-year-old Billy Ray Norton.

FROM END TO END of the 50-yard pool, swimmers pose for this wide-angle photo.

Rev. and Mrs. Mark Powell

Mt. Zion Baptist Church to welcome new pastor

Mount Zion General Baptist Church, 2667 Benton St., will welcome a new pastor, the Rev. Mark Powell and his wife, Kim, this month.

He will assume his duties on Sunday, June 22, at the 10:30 a.m. service.

Rev. Powell was born in Seagraves, Texas, and attended Malden High School in Malden, Mo. He graduated from Oakland City College, Oakland City, Ind., with a bachelor of arts degree in biblical studies.

He previously was pastor of the Ebenezer General Baptist Church, Warrick County, Ind., and was resident director at Braker Hall, Oakland City College.

Rev. Powell will also serve as administrator of the Gateway Christian Academy, sponsored by the church at the Benton Street address. The school is open to children of kindergarten age through the 12th grade.

He and his wife will reside in the church parsonage at 7 Devon Hill Lane.

Performers

HIS IMAGE, Youth Choir from First Assembly of God Church, 24th Street and Grand Avenue, will begin its annual summer tour on Monday, June 23. The group will hold services in several churches in the Chicago area and return home on Sunday, June 29.

Word of Life plans events

The Word of Life Tabernacle will hold its annual church picnic at Wilson Park on Saturday, June 20, beginning at 11 a.m. Among the activities will be a potluck dinner, baseball and volleyball games, a cake walk, dunking machine, free helium balloons, dart games, clowns, duck pond and snow cones. Numerous local businesses have donated various items to be awarded as prizes for each of the contests, the chairman said.

On Sunday, June 22, Jim Cochran will perform a concert at the 11 a.m. worship service. He will soon complete work on his second album, and presently he ministers in word and song and has performed across the country at churches and on numerous radio and television programs.

Earlier this month the first of two monthly youth meetings was held, with 35 young people and six leaders and chaperones attending the First Assembly of God Church in Granite City for a youth rally. The second meeting will be on Monday, June 23.

The youth group also plans to visit Six Flags on Friday, June 20, and will enjoy a time of fellowship at the Ponderosa Sundae Bar on Sunday, June 22, after the evening worship service.

Rev. Joseph Dunets

First Assembly revival begins

The Rev. Joseph Dunets, missionary-evangelist from Portland, Ore., will be the guest speaker for First Assembly's four-day Revival Outreach Campaign.

The campaign begins in the 10:30 a.m. service on Sunday, June 22, and concludes on Wednesday, June 25. The Sunday evening service begins at 6:30 and weeknight meetings at 7.

Rev. Dunets, reared in the slums of New York City by an alcoholic father, has traveled in over 62 countries, at times preaching to crowds in excess of 150,000 people. For 32 years the pastor of Evangel Temple in Portland, Rev. Dunets has ministered across North America in countless crusades.

The doors will be opened 30 minutes prior to each service. The public is invited, said the Rev. C. Dale Edwards, senior pastor. First Assembly is located at 24th Street and Grand Avenue. A nursery is provided free of charge.

Gets on board

Newly elected to a three-year term on the advisory board of SIUE's Lovejoy Library was Marie Robertson, Granite City.

Re-elected to the same board was Attorney Burton Bernard of Granite City.

Elected as an honorary board member was Janice Kohl for 12 years of service to the board.

An Old Fashioned Day and Homecoming at Briarcliff Pentecostal Church, 1120 W. Pontoon Road, will take place on Sunday, June 22.

Those attending may attend attired in old-fashioned dresses, bonnets, straw hats, overalls, etc., or may wear regular clothing.

The day will begin at 10 a.m. with Sunday school and morning worship, and then a barbecue and fried fish lunch with soft drinks, coffee, lemonade and tea will be served.

Special gospel singing will follow, with guest singer Candy Holley from Frankfort, Ill., and local singing talent.

Worship and fellowship will continue with a refreshment break, and then evening services at 7. The public is invited, the pastor said.

Weekending

New attractions, a new look and a new spirit has St. Louisans saying to neighbors,

You Should See Us Now

By Deborah Reinhardt
Journal Staff Writer

It's 6 p.m. Friday and you're the only one left in your office. A glaring, lonely light from the lamp over your head bears down hard on your desk full of papers. You'd rather be facing restaurant lines than deadlines, but the project is due next week. Finally, you are tired of pushing a pencil. Gathering the papers in your arms, you toss the clutter into the air and push your chair away from the desk. It's the weekend, and you need some fun.

Good for you! Now that your emancipation has arrived, what do you do with it? Come to St. Louis. Your neighbors in the Gateway City have plenty to entertain you and your family.

The reason people in Illinois have to come is so many new things," said Carole Moody, director of tourism for the St. Louis Convention and Visitors Commission.

St. Louis Centre and Union Station are the newest downtown sites. But the city has hundreds of attractions from north to south, east to west.

With domestic travel on the upswing and a national trend in families opting for several week-end trips instead of extended two-week vacations, Moody expects more visitors in St. Louis this season.

Although July and August are the busiest tourism months for St. Louis, Moody's office is working on a winter promotion that could offer savings up to 50 percent.

This travel supplement lists many attractions that would interest visitors. To receive a copy of a visitor's guide, write to St. Louis Convention and Visitors Commission, 10 S. Broadway, Suite 300, St. Louis 63102 or call (800) 225-7362.

Group to review juvenile problems

Concerned citizens will join with members of the Venice Neighborhood Watch group to discuss juvenile problems at 10 a.m. Saturday, June 21, at the Venice Senior Citizens Community Center, Brown and Klein streets, Venice.
